HOW THEY ENTERED CANAAN
(A Collection of Holiness Experience Accounts)
Compiled by Duane V. Maxey

Vol. I -- Named Accounts

ROY TILMAN WILLIAMS
1883 -- 1946
(A Nazarene General Superintendent, 1916-1946)

It was providential that Roy Williams attended the Methodist revival in company with a neighbor girl who was a Christian. And it was providential that a man of the type of Josh Sanders was doing the preaching. But after hearing the preacher's stirring call to seek God and after giving courteous attention to the voice of the girl who stood beside him asking him if he did not want to be a Christian, it was his own solemn responsibility to answer "yes" or "no."... Roy Williams made the most momentous decision of his life. His answer was a ready and a final "yes." With long measured strides he made his way to the simple altar in that old-fashioned Methodist church standing by a country road which wound its way into the Louisiana forest. To him the choice was made forever. It was irrevocable. He never turned back. For forty-eight years he followed in the footsteps of the Man of Calvary without a thought of turning from the way...

Roy attended the revival meeting each night. Soon Josh Sanders began to preach on entire sanctification. Roy listened with interest to that doctrine of which he was later to be such an able exponent. On a certain evening when the invitation was given to seek the experience, Henry Mitchell, the Sunday-school superintendent, went to the altar as a seeker for the blessing of entire sanctification. Roy said to himself, "Henry Mitchell is the best man I know. If he needs this experience I certainly do." He, too, went to the altar, for the second time. Light had shone upon him and his hungry heart responded obediently. The girl of his boyish fancy had again spoken the kindly word that encouraged him to make his way to the altar and consecrate his life to God for time and for eternity. He reached out his hand of faith and again God came to him in a never-to-be-forgotten experience, cleansing his nature from all sin and filling him with the Holy Spirit. From that time forward the strength and beauty of his life and the contagion of his Christ-like spirit began to be felt by his family and friends in that community.
